Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6. Claims 1-10 and 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Walters et al., (hereinafter “Walters”) US Patent no. 6,914,695.

Remark

7. Applicant asserted that Walters does not disclose a portable memory device reader. The examiner disagrees with the precedent assertion. However, when read and analyzed in light of the specification, the invention as claimed does not support Applicants' assertions. The claims do not capture the essence of the invention as argued in applicants' remark page 5. The aforementioned assertions, wherein the portable memory device reader fails to disclose by Walter with regard to the invention of claims 1 and 6, was unsupported by objective factual evidence and was not found to be substantial evidentiary value. Walter, on the other hand, discloses a portable Bluetooth data storage device for transmitting to a first computer device and a customer's data storage represented by the customer web site customer data storage, which allow data to be transferred to a portable hard drive through a wireless connection, wherein the first computer device is accessed from a portable digital image store having attached thereto a transceiver for transmitting multi-media data (see, fig.3 and fig.4). Applicant is also asserted that Walter does not disclose an album tools module. The examiner disagrees with the precedent assertion. It is noted, however, the Walter discloses a model that can be used for advertising by posting photos from the Intranet or from the CD on the Internet or through customer's albums. Applicant is interpreting the claims very narrow using the specification without considering the broad teaching of the reference stated in the rejection. Moreover, Applicant is reminded that the examiner is entitled to the broadest reasonable interpretation of the claims. The Applicant always has the opportunity to amend the claims during prosecution and broad interpretation by the examiner reduces the possibility that the claim, once issued, will be interpreted more broadly than is justified. In re Prater 162 USPQ 541, 550-51 (CCPA 1969). Walter discloses the invention as claimed. Hence the 35 U.S.C 102 is hereby sustained.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
